SERVICE Above Self

CHRISTMAS PARTY

A small, but select, group of a better class of Brunswick Rotarians gathered at the Sewell household for a gourmet barbeque lunch in the shady grounds. Adam and Mal were the brave members to show off their svelte swimming gear.

Sincere thanks to Glenyce and Greg for inviting us to their home and setting up such a great afternoon including Father Christmas for the kids. The kids who went for a ride on the fire truck just couldn't wipe the smiles off their faces! Thanks also to Graham who was Father Christmas and to Phillip Sewell for acting as chef.

I found it an interesting afternoon in that I found out a few things about Greg (none of them bad) which were quite a surprise to me. Actually, it could be a good subject for Greg to speak about as guest speaker one Thursday.

LAST MEETING

No guest speaker was scheduled but Ian Musgrove of Preston Rotary turned up for a make-up and was drafted rather willingly as guest speaker. Ian told us about his exploits on the Rotary Cricket Fellowship tour of England a few months ago.

A crew of about 30 (some with partners) went on the tour in which they played 13 games – winning 11. Amazingly, not one day was lost for rain. Ian was in Paris when the bombs went off in London.

Obviously he had a great time and his talk made the point that Rotary has little groups or fellowships for members sharing particular interests – see list below for further details.

NEW DIRECTORY

This publication has just been distributed thanks to the great work of Dean and Mel Kennedy who are in no way responsible for its delay.

CHRISTMAS GOODIES

Barry Cross is selling Rotary Christmas cards for $10 per package and also still has some Christmas cakes and puddings available at the most reasonable cost of $13 each.

THIS WEEK

Guest speaker (name yet to be advised) will be discussing community banking. I am sure this will be a topic of interest to us all.

CHRISTMAS WEEK MEETING

Please note that Thursday 22nd will be a breakfast meeting with a 7.30 am start.

JANUARY MEETINGS

We do not have meetings in January but we do gather (and record attendance) at the usual time at the Lomond Hotel on the corner of Blyth Street and Nicholson Street. Instead of a formal meeting, we sit around and tell each other a pack of lies about how good we are.

There is no such gathering scheduled for December 29th but it may be that some members might agree to get together.

Vocational and Recreational Fellowships

Rotarians with common vocations form supraclub fellowships to promote cooperation and service within their areas of activity. Those Fellowships are invited to place their pages on the ROTARNET site. Further information
